MUNCHAUSEN OUTDONE.

Great shades of Amman! Just read this from the Parkersburg News: "There is no paper published in Parkersburg so widely read nor so generally quoted as The News. Advertisers who use it and they are the shrewdest advertisers and the most successful business men find that The News gives them value received for their expenditure and that, though its prices are maintained at a uniform figure based on its bona fide circulation, they get better results from their advertising in this paper than any other."

"For the month just ended—August—there were 129,500,000 copies of The News printed and circulated." One hundred and twenty-nine million, five hundred thousand papers printed and circulated during the month of August—thirty-one days! The preponderance of this accumulation of figures makes a man shrink up so small that he feels like a microbe. According to this assertion the Parkersburg News Company prints and circulates every day something like 4,177,419 copies of its newspaper. When the eight pages of the News are spread out and placed end to end, without cutting, in one continuous string, allowing for the increased number of pages of the four Sunday editions of the month, we find that the string would be about 877,000,000 feet long, or 166,095 miles. This string would encircle the earth six times with a generous lap over.

The only way we can account for this terrible circulation is that the circulation manager and one of the editors of the Parkersburg News recently made a visit to Clarksburg while enroute to a summer resort, and we reason it out that both gentlemen were so amazed and bewildered at the stupendous growth and astonishing commercial activity of the Fuel City of the Fuel State, that they think it necessary to multiply everything by two or three millions whenever they talk or write about Parkersburg in order to make things appear in the relative proportion they imagined Clarksburg and Parkersburg to be before they came out here and beheld things as they are.

HERALD FIGHTS REPUBLICANS.

The Democratic Harrison County Herald is so cowardly that it signs all its principal attacks upon the Republican party with a nomdeplume. It also, under an underhand way, gives aid to the Democratic clique ticket. It is even so cowardly that it will not run the Republican ticket at the head of its editorial column, where it properly belongs in Republican newspapers, but ticks it down in the corner of an advertising column. It pretends to be the friend of Roosevelt and Dawson, but these two gentlemen's names do not adorn the head of its editorial columns. The reason is that it does not propose to do anything for the Republican party and is secretly hoping that the party ticket will be defeated. It is to the interest of the Democratic clique that it should be, and since the president of the Herald Company has openly declared that he intended to take the stamp this fall in behalf of the Democratic ticket, the public may be sure that that sheet and its Democratic manipulators, are not going to do any thing to help the Republican party. They are pursuing the course of traitors and every one who is familiar with their acts knows it.

"CLEVELAND'S BLITHING ENDORSEMENT."

"Mr. Cleveland has endorsed the nomination of Judge Parker, but he has done it in such a way as to justify the Judge in praying to be saved from such friends. Instead of rejoicing that Mr. Parker's election would rid the country of imperialism, reduce the army, quench the war-like spirit which the President has engendered and remove the race question from politics, Mr. Cleveland insults the loyal Democrats by talking about a return to 'sanity,' and enlarges upon the Judge's telegram. Mr. Cleveland seems more anxious to turn the campaign into a vindication of himself than to contribute toward Judge Parker's election."—William Jennings Bryan, "The Commoner," August 19, 1904.

THE SHANTY SHEET.

Our feeble contemporary, which oozes from a shanty down the street, and which is owned, guided, nourished and steered by the Democratic clique, in its current—beg pardon, we mean its last—edition, diffuses this sweet and soul-stirring bit of logic:

"One of the most disgusting and inhuman practices is the snake-eater-shoe. It is a wonder that civilized humanity would tolerate such heathenish practices."

"This practical bit of information is a fair sample of the average engloamerate product, which is placed in that sheet under the guise of intelligent editorial comment. For the benefit of education we suggest that the sheet be extirpated."

"STEADY, DEMOCRATS, STEADY."

"If sometimes, during the past week those most earnestly and prayerfully solicitous for the complete restoration of the Democratic Party to health and sanity have felt depressed by certain convention incidents relating to the money question, it is certainly now time for them and for all who love true Democracy to calmly survey the situation as it appears since the dust and swelter of convention controversy have passed away."—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, "Collier's" for July 23, 1904.

DEMOCRATIC INSINCERITY.

"We are more fortunate than our opponents, who now appeal for confidence on the ground, which some express and some seek to have confidentially understood, that if triumphant they may be trusted to prove false to every principle which in the past eight years they have laid down as vital, and to leave undisturbed those very acts of the administration because of which they ask that the administration itself be driven from power."—President Roosevelt's speech of acceptance, July 27, 1904.

BRYAN'S VIEW OF PLATFORM.

"I shall not misrepresent the situation, or appeal for votes for the ticket upon false grounds. A Democratic victory will mean very little, if any progress on economic questions so long as the party is under the control of the Wall street element. * * * The labor plank as prepared by Judge Parker's friends on the sub-committee was a straddling, meaningless plank. * * * The nomination of Judge Parker virtually nullifies the anti-trust plank."—William Jennings Bryan, "The Commoner," July 13, 1904.

BRYAN'S VIEW OF NOMINATION.

"I have nothing to take back. I have nothing to withdraw of the things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his candidacy. It was a plain and deliberate attempt to deceive the party. The New York platform was vague and purposely so, because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them. * * * The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indefensible methods."—William Jennings Bryan, "The Commoner," July 13, 1904.

REPUBLICAN SINCERITY.

"We ask that their promises and ours be judged by what has been done in the immediate past. We ask that sober and sensible men compare the workings of the present tariff law, and the conditions which obtain under it, with the workings of the preceding tariff law of 1894 and the conditions which that tariff of 1894 helped to bring about."—President Roosevelt's speech of acceptance, July 27, 1904.

The Democratic Harrison County Herald, owned body and soul by the selfish, designing, corrupt and unprincipled Democratic clique, has awakened to the fact that the situation with the clique is so desperate that it has found it necessary to go to work to prejudice Democrats against the Republican ticket. It has awakened to a full realization that the Democratic party of the county does not intend as a whole to support the clique ticket, nominated by treachery as one of the Herald gang openly declared the same day of the convention and as a last resort at the dictation and command of the clique, it enters into underhand tirades against the Republican party and those who are laboring for Republican success. It hopes by this to persuade the bolting Democrats to get back into line, but there is where it will fail.

Another evidence of the fact that collusion exists between the Herald and the News and the Democratic clique is the fact that the News publishes a lot of harpings and then the Herald publishes the same things. The News advances an idea, such as it is, and then the Herald falls into line. But the people are on to their game. They know that the Democratic clique manipulates both papers in the interest of that clique and that ends it with them.

That campaign book that was addressed to R. U. True was written before the Democratic clique nominated its ticket. It ought to be revised now so as to read R. U. True to the Democratic clique. Doubtless, it will be, since, that is what its circulation will mean, if it is issued at all.

Some time ago there was printed what was intended to be a Democratic campaign book in this section. It was in the form of a letter and the author made it appear that it was a matter of sincerity and straightforward, so much so that a fictitious person was addressed.

The Democrats have about as much trouble in getting arguments to the front as the Russians in supplying their army 5,000 miles from its base of supplies and with but a single light rail track to connect them.

David B. Hill says he is going to retire from politics January 1, 1905. A neat way it is of advising the public that Parker will have no opportunity of making any cabinet appointments that year.

Unless the Democrats can enlist the hearty support of flood, fire and famine between now and November, their hopes of success are not worth twenty-nine cents on the dollar.

How would it do for Parker to commit his party to absolute self-government for the Filipinos thirty days after the same is granted to the negroes of the South?

Sincere Democrats congratulated themselves upon their defeat in 1896 and 1900. Congratulations will again be in order next November.
